Based in San Francisco, xBids is a fast-paced, online penny auctions site that empowers its users to purchase the latest name-brand products at substantially reduced prices by allowing them to compete for such items in timed auctions where frenzied bidding and riveting excitement are the norm. The capacity to merge the real-time entertainment of placing the winning bid before time runs out with the clear savings value that is akin to the online shopping experience has proved to be a winning combination for xBids and its members.

At xBids, everyone is a winner! You either win the item of your choice at a ridiculously low price at one of our exciting auctions or you can purchase it at a discounted rate! Either way, you wind up with great merchandise for an unbelievable price!

xBids initially formed in 2005 as a standard online auctions site before retooling its business model in Q2 of 2010 in order to address growing consumer demands in the surging penny auctions arena. The dramatic shift in the company's platform was completed under the guidance of a new leadership team that is dedicated to providing xBids customers with a superior online auction experience that sets the industry standard for excellence in customer satisfaction, service and security, as well as providing those customers with the largest, most-comprehensive catalog of discounted items in the penny auctions arena.

Happy Bidding!
